Agenda and Registration Information

PROGRAM OBJECTIVE

This program is designed to provide hospital clinicians and resuscitation professionals with information about: the most recent resuscitation research; the AHA Get With The Guidelines-Resuscitation® achievement measures, The Joint Commission’s Standards of Care; how to improve hospital code team processes; the applications of mechanical vs. manual CPR methods; and how facilities can integrate therapeutic hypothermia into resuscitation protocols.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After participating in this activity, participants will be able to:

• Apply new research released since 2010 ECC Guidelines were published and determine the applicability of this information to their own in-hospital systems
• Determine whether their own in-hospital cardiac arrest protocols and procedures align with TJC Standards of Care
• Determine whether the resuscitation data they currently capture aligns with the GWTG-Resuscitation Achievement Measures, and assess the appropriateness of this program for their own facility
• Determine what system based clinical and process improvements (“take home lessons”) they can implement in their own code teams to avoid undesirable outcomes
• Identify two gap areas in their own in-hospital code team processes
• Understand the AHA recommendations for the use of manual vs. mechanical CPR devices, using insight gained into their clinical application; participants will be able to apply this knowledge to assess and train their code team members
• Assess whether their facility should integrate hypothermia into local resuscitation protocols, which method(s) to use and in which hospital units

CERTIFICATION

Continuing Medical Education Accreditation - Physicians
The American Heart Association is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Heart Association designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

All persons who develop and/or control educational content in CME/CE activities sponsored by the American Heart Association will disclose to the audience all financial relationships with any commercial supporters of this activity as well as with other commercial interests whose lines of business are related to the CME/CE-certified content of this activity. In addition, presenters will disclose unlabeled/unapproved uses of drugs or devices discussed in their presentations. Such disclosures will be made in writing in course presentation materials.

Continuing Medical Education Accreditation – Physician Assistants
AAPA accepts Category I credit from AOACCME, Prescribed credit from AAFP, and AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ from organizations accredited by ACCME or a recognized state medical society. Physician assistants may receive a maximum of 6.25 hours of Category 1 credit for completing this program.

Continuing Education Accreditation - Nurses
The American Heart Association is accredited as a provider of continuing nursing education by the American Nurses Credentialing Center’s Commission on Accreditation.

The maximum number of hours awarded for this CE activity is 6.25 contact hours.

Accredited status does not imply endorsement by the American Heart Association or the American Nurses Credentialing Center of any commercial products displayed in conjunction with an activity.

Continuing Education Accreditation – Emergency Medical Services
This continuing education activity is approved by the American Heart Association, an organization accredited by the Continuing Education Coordinating Board for Emergency Medical Services (CECBEMS), for 6.25 Advanced CEHs, activity number 12-AMHA-F2-0173.

Steps for Successful Completion:
To successfully complete this activity, learners must fully participate in the sessions. In addition, learners must provide feedback that will be used for evaluative and outcomes measurement purposes. Learners will check-in onsite for attendance verification purposes and will be required to provide evaluative feedback before CME/CE credit can be claimed.
